April Program- "What's In The (Overseas) Bag" by Andrea Shetley

Based on her popular "What's in the Bag?" program, Andrea Shetley presents a modified version drawn from her experience on her trip to Australia and New Zealand in 2011. Packing for an 8-week adventure half way around the world presents some interesting challenges with today's travel restrictions. Gone are the days of lugging multiple over-sized bags in the plane cabin with you. Today's travelers must carefully consider what they want immediate access to and how to fit it in a 45-inch (length + width + height) bag with a 15-pound weight restriction (a personal item such as a small purse or satchel also is allowed...and Andrea will show you how to take full advantage of it). The inability to lock your suitcase also is another factor to consider when deciding which items to pack in your carry on or checked luggage. You will be amazed at what you can actually carry if you put your mind to it! We also will look at what items to skip

Andrea in the Outback

Reminder! Fifth Monday in April

There will be a Members Forum (casual meeting where any photography topic is open for discussion) on the fifth Monday, Apr 29. Due to scheduling conflict, the meeting will be in the Heritage Room of the Library instead of our normal location in the Auditorium.

Roger announced that in July our program will be “Name That Tune.”

From The President

Spring is here, at least in Season, although not in temperature, yet. As the temps warm up, head out and get some photos of the emerging flora and fauna. The redbuds are just coming out, and the dogwoods and azaleas won't be far behind.

Our program presenter last month was Charlie Seifried. Charlie is one of the area's best known corporate and nature photographers. He has done annual report photography for many well-known large companies across the country and around the world. Besides showing us some of his beautiful photos, he discussed how the corporate/annual report photography business climate has changed since he started out, especially with the advent of the digital revolution – very interesting. He also talked about how commercial photo printing methods of just a few years ago have gone by the wayside, victims of technological evolution.

Joe Fikes was our judge for “Backlit” in March, and he did a great job judging and providing meaningful feedback. Responding to two suggestions by members, to allow the print judging to be seen better by the audience and to receive comments on the digital entries, we tried something different that really seemed to work. Cliff presented the digital submissions first, and Joe commented on these as they were shown. Then, with the projector in place, Cliff added a camera to the light box that allowed everyone to see the prints go through it on the screen. Be sure to check out the winners in the newsletter, the club website, and on our Smug Mug site.

We had a small issue with the digital image submissions last month that will require a change to our rules. One person submitted an image with a watermark showing their name, and we had to have them re-submit it. Our judges are not given the names associated with the submitted images, so we can avoid any conflict of interest. Watermarking your images is a great idea, but when you submit for our competitions, please create/print an image without it.

Bob Gower is looking for members to provide instruction in any subject relating to photography, so please consider sharing your knowledge with others. They say you learn more by teaching than being the student.

Our April competition topic is Open. I always enjoy these competitions, because of the huge variety of images our members enter. These also really challenge our judges.

Also, Roger announced that in July our program will be “Name That Tune.” So, you have a few months to figure out how you will show us a song title through a photograph. I can't wait to see the entries – this should really be fun!

This month has a fifth Monday, so don't forget to come and participate in our open discussion forum on the 29th. Due to a scheduling conflict with the Auditorium, we will meet in the Library's Heritage Room. Go out and take some photos!!

carrying altogether and buy when you land. This humorous, entertaining, and educational program will help you prepare for your next trip overseas. Following the equipment demonstration, there will be a slide show of Andrea's photos from Australia and New Zealand. Join her as she tours New Zealand in 12 days (see steaming mud, climb a glacier in the rainforest, go on a boat tour in the fjords, and get a look at some of the local wildlife), and goes to Sydney, Darwin, and Adelaide in Australia (including driving from the north coast to the south coast through the Outback).

Andrea L. Shetley has been involved in photography for 40 years, and stereo photography for the last 18 years. She uses Pentax digital SLR bodies with an assortment of lens and accessories, a Canon compact digital camera, and a Fuji compact digital 3D camera. Andrea is past president of the Huntsville Photographic Society and current Chairman of the 3D Division of the Photographic Society of America (PSA), a member of several local and international photographic organizations, and is co-founder of the Fayetteville Photo Club in Tennessee.

April Mini-Class

Cliff Whitmore will be teaching about Triptychs at the next mini-class, April 22, 6:00-6:45 p.m., before the monthly competition meeting. Location is the same room as the regular club meetings at the Library. One of the ways to display your photographs is by printing them to canvas, stretching them over a frame, and then hanging them carefully on a wall. For large spaces, you can either print to a large canvas, or create an arranged collection of smaller canvases. One popular display technique is to create a photo split, where you take one photo and print different portions of it on multiple canvases. Three canvases displayed side-by-side to form one overall image is known as a triptych. During this presentation, Cliff will show how he took some of his favorite landscape photos and created a canvas triptych.

Thanks!

Bob Gower would like to thank Veronica Beaudry for teaching how to mat prints for the March Mini-class. Several members said they enjoyed and really appreciated Veronica for taking the time and the effort to share her knowledge.

Notes From HPS Webmaster

- 1) All winners from competition will be recorded and posted on the website each month. A camera is being used to capture the print entries but winners may submit a digital copy of their photo if they would like a better representation to be used. Send small jpg to Margaret Phillips, phillipsqh@bellsouth.net.
- 2) Galleries. Each member may submit information for a page under the gallery section of the website. A bio paragraph, a personal photo, a few pictures and links to any of their websites, (flickr, 500px, etsy whatever) are suggested.

Rick Sammon-Canon Explorer of Light Seminar

May 11, 2013

1:00-5:00 pm

UAH Chan Auditorium, Huntsville, AL

There is no fee for this seminar but you must register.

Go to <http://www.huntsvillephotographicsociety.org/activities/rick-sammon-seminar/>

In this informative and fun-filled presentation, Rick Sammon will begin by sharing his people, wildlife, landscape and travel pictures from around the globe – illustrating the difference between taking pictures and making pictures.

For every image, Rick will share a photographic technique, digital dark-room tip, or a photo philosophy. He will cover seeing the light, controlling the light, playing with the light, HDR photography and some composition techniques. This is not just a slide show of pretty images. Rick is here to share what he's learned over his many years as a professional photographer.

As Rick "takes" us on a visual journey through the exciting world of digital photography, he will share some of his favorite Lightroom and CS6 enhancements.

The event is sponsored by Canon, Southerland Photo, and HPS
